

AtCor Medical Clinical Trial SERVICES

Improve Understanding of the Cardiovascular Effects of an Intervention.

AtCor Medical provides proven SphygmoCor technology and an expert clinical trial services team.

Over a decade of EXPERIENCE

AtCor Medical's Clinical Trial Services Team has more than a decade of experience supporting sponsors and sites around the globe. The team is composed of study management and technical support personnel who are experts in arterial stiffness assessments and central pressure waveform analysis, as well as data management and site support.

AtCor Medical's Clinical Trial Services team is the most experienced support team in the industry for central hemodynamic measurements.

The team has supported:

- Clinical trial execution in phases I–IV
- Studies across therapeutic areas, including hypertension, heart failure, chronic kidney disease, COPD, diabetes and more

To learn more, email info@atcormedical.com or visit atcormedical.com/clinical-trial-services.

